Article 5

Along with the main promoter-applicant, eligibility criteria as referred to in article 4 are also applicable to the first co-promoter applicant from each additional institution involved.

II- B.: APPLICATION SUBMISSION

Article 6

The Télévie Call for applications is open once a year and is published on the F.R.S.-FNRS website.

The submission of an application can be made either in French or in English and online only through SEMAPHORE, the management platform dedicated to calls for proposals, available at the following address: <https://applications.frs-fnrs.be>.

All applications are submitted to a procedure including two or three successive electronic validations on the dates that will be indicated when the call for applications is published.

- a. The validation by the main promoter, responsible proponent accountable to the F.R.S.-FNRS administration: it accounts as a confirmation that the application is complete.
- b. The validation by the co-promoter(s): it accounts as an electronic signature.
- c. The validation by the research unit (or Board of Education) of the institution to which promoters are related – the Authority to which the application file is transferred once promoters have validated the application form. That authority may accept or refuse the application. The validation deadline fixed for the rectors puts a final end to the call for proposals.

Applications that have not been validated within the time-frame of the call cannot be taken into account.
